Description
When ##FULL FORM## is used to define the description of the ticket target, the order in which the questions/answers are written to the ticket description corresponds to the one in which rows are retrieved by the Select statement without any order clause. As a consequence, it might not corresponds to the presentation of the form. Would be nice if the order was controled in a way, for example section after section, and question after question.
