Description

Configuration : GLPI 0.84.7, and plugin domains v1.6.0

In Management > Suppliers, view a supplier (not all, but some of them) generates a Sql error.

sql-errors.log (extract)

- MySQL query error: ***

```
SQL: SELECT COUNT AS cpt
```

FROM `glpi_plugin_domains_domains` WHERE `glpi_suppliers`='2'
AND entities_id NOT IN ('0')

Error: Unknown column 'glpi_suppliers' in 'where clause'

Backtrace :

/var/www/glpiOLD/inc/db.function.php :328 DBmysql->query()
/var/www/glpiOLD/inc/commondbtm.class.php :1697 countElementsInTable()
/var/www/glpiOLD/inc/commondbtm.class.php :2098 CommonDBTM->canUnrecurs()
/var/www/glpiOLD/inc/supplier.class.php :114 CommonDBTM->showFormHeader()
/var/www/glpiOLD/front/supplier.form.php :90 Supplier->showForm()
/var/www/glpiOLD/front/supplier.form.php

Indeed, column glpi_suppliers does not exist in table glpi_plugin_domains_domains. But column suppliers_id is present.

History

#1 - 10/19/2014 05:15 PM - blerohellec

The error seems to come from /plugins/domains/hook.php function plugin_domains_getdatabaserelations

the array references column glpi_suppliers in table glpi_plugin_domains_domains where it should be column suppliers_id.
